

CHIEF CLOSES 12 POLICE STATIONS AND SHIFTS MEN

Order for Retrenchment Means Record Shakeup in Department.

Expense retrenchment in the police department began in earnest last night. Chief Schuettler closed twelve police stations and rearranged the entire department.

In point of number of men affected, the chief's order was the most extensive ever issued in the history of the department. It affected commanding officers and included janitors and scrub-women.

The stations abandoned were:

Twenty-second-st. West Lake-st.
Stanton-av. Rawson-st.
Deering, West North-av.
Morgan Park, Hudson-av.
Woodlawn, North Halsted-st.
West Thirteenth-st North Robey-st.

It is estimated that the closing of the twelve stations will save approximately $170,000 in the annual operating expense of the police department.

32 Stations Left.
