

6 TO BECOME POLICE CADETS ON WEDNESDAY

Six west siders are among 106 Chicago men who will be appointed police cadets by Supt. O. W. Wilson on Wednesday. The first group of 62 cadets will have been in service for one year on that day.

The new group, aged 17 to 19 years, will receive four weeks' training at the Police academy, then will be assigned to clerical duty in various offices of the department. Fifty of the new cadets will be assigned to a canvass of Chicago homes to find unlicensed dogs, while the remainder will relieve the one-year men appointed last July.

List West Siders

The west siders are Kevin Baldwin, 129 N. Menard av., Michael Plovanch, 4024 Division st., Gerald Prampin, 2044 Superior st., James Seifbans, 3009 S. Troy st., Roger Shamley, 1249 S. California av., and David Shields, 1553 S. Kedzie av.

The cadets will work a 40-hour week at an annual salary beginning at $4,074. Besides performing normal clerical and administrative work, they will be required to enroll for at least six semester hours in local colleges in courses allied to police work.

Can Take Exam

At age 21, all cadets will be given the opportunity take the patrolman's civil service examination.

The original cadet group will be granted two-week furloughs before reassignment to other departmental duties. There are 49 of the 62 original cadets still in the program. Most of those who dropped out are now in college, the armed forces, or in other jobs, a police spokesman said.
